The MRA Career Center gives you the opportunity to post your resume anonymously. All your information is displayed in your resume except for your name and contact information. You can divulge as much information in your resume posting as you see fit. This job board keeps active and passive job seekers connected to the employment market while you maintain full control over your confidential information.

You can create a free company profile including your company logo. Applicants will have a feeling of familiarity and security with your company. They know your company has substance and you're going to be around for a while, making your location a desirable place to apply.
